Q: Ramanujan's congruences? I'm solving problems from Ramanujan's congruences. The next one is $$36 \equiv 16 \mod 17$$ or, using properties, $$3 \mid 24 \cdot 17 - 16$$ or $$24 \cdot 17 \equiv 0 \mod 3$$ so, dividing by $24$, $$17 \equiv 0 \mod 3$$ but I don't know how to use the properties because the next one is $$2895 \equiv 2 \mod 89$$ For the second question, $$3 \mid 2895 \cdot 89 - 2$$ so $$3 \mid 2895 \cdot 89 - 2895$$ $$3 \mid 89 \cdot 2895 - 895$$ A: If you know the definition of modulo: $a \equiv b \mod m \iff a \equiv b \pmod m$ So for your first question, $24 \cdot 17 \equiv 0 \pmod {17} \iff {24} \cdot 17 \equiv 0 \pmod {17}$ Do you know the definition for multiplication modulo? Q: Should I be using form onsubmit for this function? Basically, in the code, when you leave off a URL, you add the next one, and if the URL is put back into the text field then it submits a new form. The problem I have is when I submit, it shows up as if it was just a regular submit button as if it was ajax. Here is the page and the relevant code: //submits first item from dropdown list function addUrl(form){ var text=document.getElementById("text").value; var url=document.getElementById("url"); var x=document.getElementById("add"); var newurl=""+text; url.innerHTML=""+"Add Listing"+""; //adds a function to make page submit document.getElementById("form").onsubmit=function(){ var a=document.getElementById("sub"); a.innerHTML=""; a
